

23 March 2020

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, physical access to the Presbyterian Research Centre, Hewitson Library and Archives, is now closed to all visitors until further notice.

Staff have been advised to work from home, so they will not be able to send out either books or archival documents. Please feel welcome to continue to send any requests which they will respond to once collections are once again available.

If you need access to resources not available elsewhere urgently, this will be dealt with as Government alert levels allow, contact us at either hewitson@prcknox.org.nz or pcanzarchives@prcknox.org.nz

We will continue to develop our online presence, making more resources available on our new Recollect website and arranging more access to electronic books and other digital resources through the Hewitson Library catalogue and the Living Library.

Further updates will be sent out regularly, so please sign up for our newsletters or check our Facebook page.

Please take care of yourselves, your loved ones and anyone else you have contact with.

Kind regards

Jane
