

Urgent appeal for refugees from violence in Kenya

CWS partner, the Church of Uganda, urgently needs US$60,000 for aid for the thousands of Kenyans, mainly women and children, seeking refuge across the border from the violence and civil unrest in Kenya.

Already more than 2,000 refugees have temporary shelter in schools and churches at the border. Many more are staying with family and friends. The Church of Uganda is appealing for funds to be able to provide food, plastic sheeting for tents, blankets, clothing, water supplies, sanitation and medical services.

The crisis in Kenya began on 27 December when disputed election results led to ethnic clashes. Official figures already put the death toll at more than 600 and violence still continues while the two major parties fail to reach a negotiated settlement to the crisis. As a result, more than 250,000 people have been made homeless by the violence and this figure is growing.

Christian World Service has already sent US$10,000 from its emergency fund but would like to be able to contribute more to the Church of Uganda appeal to provide more families with emergency supplies and shelter.

If you can help, Christian World Service and the Church of Uganda would greatly appreciate your support.
